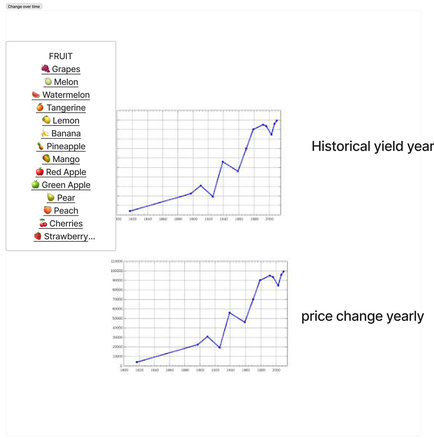
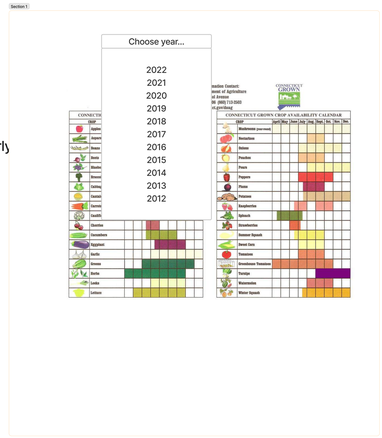
- Map of fruits and vegetables available in different states in different seasons.
  - If time, ability to put in your zipcode or county and see what fruits and vegetables are available locally.
  - Include farmer's markets possibly.

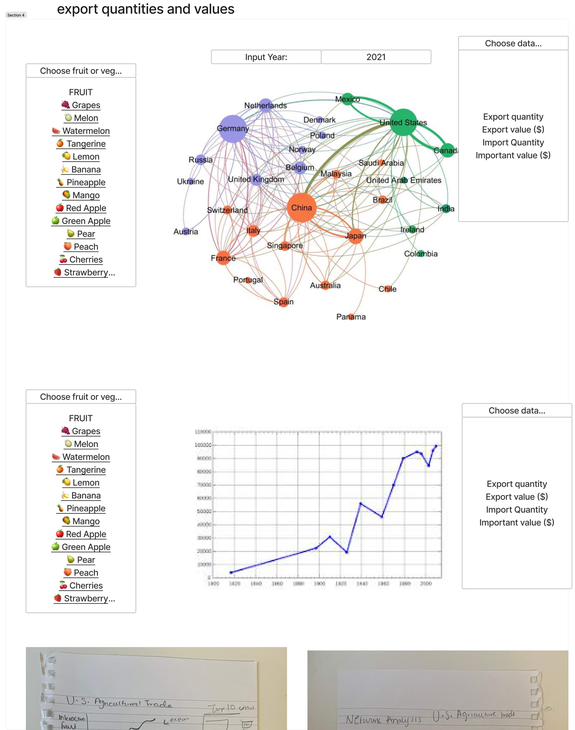
- Line chart of historical production of fruits and vegetables.
- Visualizations of price fluctuations over time.

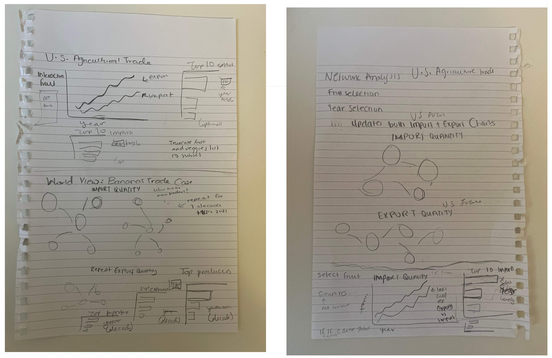


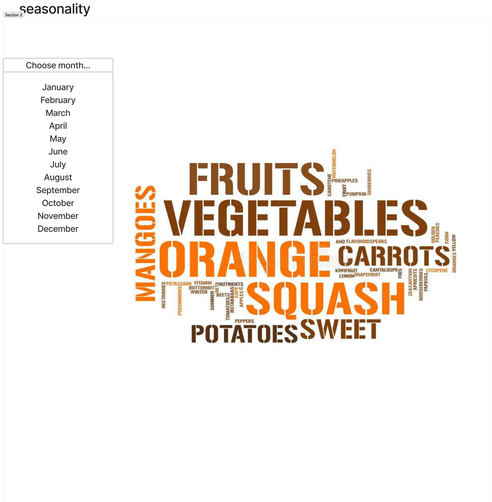
- Calendar of when fruits and vegetables are available during the year.

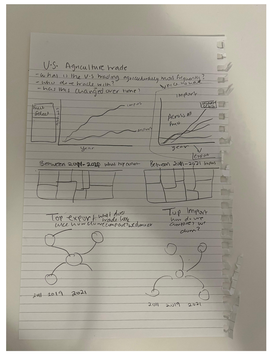


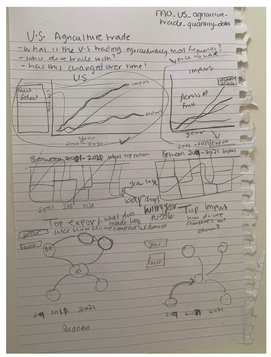
- U.S. worldwide agricultural trade section
- Show network analysis of import and export trade lines for different crops across different years for the U.S. with other countries
- Show trend lines for different crops for U.S. import and export quantities and values











- Text analysis of discussions in the r/fruit subreddit
- filter by time to see what fruits are being discussed, hopefully show that discussions are influenced by seasonality